DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-25, drawn to in vitro method of screening compounds using complexes of BAK and/or M11L, classified in class 435, subclass 4, 6, 7.1, and 15.
- II. Claims 26-29, drawn to in vivo drug testing using an animal, classified in unclassifiable due to the unspecified structure of the drug being tested.
- III. Claims 30-37, drawn to method of identifying M11L-interacting protein, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I-III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). Each invention carries out the different active steps using structurally and functionally divergent materials for accomplish the different purposes stated in the preamble of the claims. Group I invention requires complex of proteins, group II requires a live animal, and group III requires M11L protein. Each method is divergent in materials and steps.

The inventions of groups I, II, and III have a separate status in the art as shown by their different classifications. As such, it would be burdensome to search groups I, II, or III.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, and the search required for each group is not required for the other groups because each group requires a different non-patent literature search due to each group comprising different products and/or method steps, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention.

The species are:

- (1) binding to the complexes,
- (2) increasing or decreasing the steady state level of the complex,
- (3) affecting an enzymatic activity of the complex,
- (4) affecting a subcellular localization of the complex,
- (5) a yeast two-hybrid assay, reverse yeast two-hybrid assay,
- (6) ITS, or reverse ITS

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
